FROM WASHINGTON.

CONGRESS IN SESSION---YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The Senate and House Called to order---Taking the Iron-Clad Oath --Reading the Message.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The Senate was called to order by Vice President Wheeler at 12 o'clock, and prayer offered by the chaplain.

Messrs. Anthony and Bayard were appointed a committee to join a similar committee on the part of the House to wait upon the President and inform him that both houses of Congress were organized and ready to receive any communication he might choose to make.

Pending the report of the committee business was suspended.

At 12:30 P. M. the committee on the President not having reported, on motion of Mr. Thurman, a recess of three-fourths of an hour was taken.

The President sent to the Senate today the name of George W. McCrary to be Judge of the eighth circuit.

The Senate reconvened at 2 P. M. Mr. Burnside gave notice that he would tomorrow ask leave to call up the joint resolution offered by him at the last session with regard to the proposed inter-oceanic canal.

The Vice President laid before the Senate the annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury, which which was ordered to be printed.

The President's message was received and read by the clerk. At its conclusion Mr Terry rose to announce the death of his colleague, Zachariah Chandler, and moved that the Senate, as a mark of respect to the latter's memory, adjourn, which was agreed to, and the Senate adjourned at 3:15.

HOUSE.

At precisely 12 o'clock the Speaker called the House to order, and after prayer by the Chaplain, the roll was called and showed an attendance of 232 members, there being fifty-six absentees.

The newly elected members from California, Iowa and New York were qualified for office after taking the iron-clad oath, after which the House took a recess to enable a committee to wait upon the President and inform him the House was ready to receive any communication from him.

Leaders of the House of Representatives intend to procure an adjournment of that body immediately after the reading of the President's message without proceeding to the usual Monday call of States for the introduction of bills or affording any opportunity for the offering of motions to suspend the rules, etc. It is also understood that the Senate will transact no business this afternoon after receiving the President's message.

At 1:50 the President's message was received and read by the Clerk. It was listened to at first with attention, but after a time members fell into conversation and the reading was concluded without any manifestations of approval or disapproval on either side of the House.

On motion of Mr. Wood, of New York, the message and accompanying documents were referred to the committee of the whole and ordered to be printed.

The House then adjourned.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

The Joyner Block in Winston in Ruins.

Special Dispatch to the NEWS.

WINSTON, Dec. 1–12 M.—A fire caught from the stove-pipe in Thompson's drug store in the Joyner Block at 11 A. M., and the entire rear end of the building is in flames There being no facilities for extinguishing it, the entire block is almost sure to be consumed.

SECOND DISPATCH.

WINSTON, Dec. 1—10:10 P. M.—The fire is under control. Two large stores are in ruins and three others badly damaged. All the goods were gotten out, but are damaged. The loss is heavy.

Winston is peculiarly unfortunate as regards facilities for extinguishment of fires. When the subject was broached at the time Salem was putting in water works the proposition was summarily squelched, and now our people are reaping the fruits of their false economy. The Joyner block was one of the fines buildings in Winston, and it seems a pity that it could not have been saved, which it would have been had water been available.

Fire Record.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—A fire started at 10 o'clock to-day in the cellar of A. M. Collins, paper manufacturer at No. 11 Decatur street, thence it communicated through the hatchway to the second story of Magargee Bros. & Co.'s paper and rag warehouse next door, where it burned fiercely and soon enveloped the latter in a mass of flames, which shortly reached Magargee's store on Sixth street. The walls of the Decatur Street place are falling rapidly. No estimate can be placed on the loss or insurance as yet.

LATER.—The fire which broke out this morning in Collins' paper warehouse, and the paper manufactory of Megargee Brothers, on Decatur street, was finally gotten under control about 1:30 P. M. The total loss will not be less than $125,000.

LIFE-SAVING SERVICE.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

The Number of Stations and the Increase the Present Year—Statistics Regarding Losses.

The general superintendent of the life-saving service has just completed his annual report to the Secretary of the Treasury. It shows at the close of the fiscal year the establishment embraced 172 stations, of which 136 were on the Atlantic, 30 on the lakes and six on the Pacific. Within the limits of the operations of the service there were 219 disasters to vessels. The number of persons on board these vessels were 2,107, of whom 2,049 were saved, and 58 were lost. There were succored at the stations 371 shipwrecked passengers, 1,074 days' relief being afforded them in the aggregate. The number of persons brought ashore from wrecked vessels by the life-saving appliances of the stations was 412. In addition, the life-saving crews assisted in heaving off when stranded, and got out of dangerous positions and piloted to places of safety, 89 vessels. The estimated value of the whole number of vesseis involved was $1,922,276, and of their cargoes $965,610, making the total value of property imperiled $2,887,886. Of this amount $1,443,686 was saved and $1,442,800 lost. The number of disasters involving the total loss of vessels was 54. The number of disasters to vessels, being 217, is greater than that of any previous year, the highest former number having been 171. Total number of persons saved 8,030 Total number of lives lost 364. Total number of persons sheltered 1,753. Total number of days' shelter afforded 4,790.

The report says: "Of the 364 given above as lost, 183 occurred at the disaster of the Huron and Metropolis, which have been previously shown as not chargeable to the service." The report also states that the customary annual examinations of the keepers and crews of the stations by the examining boards disclose a gratifying state of efficiency—of the 1,046 persons employed, only 17 having been set aside for others professionally and physically better qualified. New stations have been established—one at Cranberry Isles, Maine; one at Scituate, Massachusetts; one at Watch Hill, Rhode Island; three on the coast between Cape Henlopen and Cape Charles; thirteen between Cape Henry and Cape Hatteras. On the lakes, one at Ludington, one at Manistee, one at Muskegon and one at Kenosha, and two on the Pacific coast. Six additional stations are in process of construction on the gulf coast, and steps are in progress for the early establishment of eight others which are authorized by law.

Much attention has been given to the improvement of life-saving appliances, and a considerable number of inventions in this direction having been received, it has been found necessary to organize two boards of experts for their thorough examination and test. One of these boards, having charge of improved boats and floating appliances, is presided over by Captain R. B. Forbes, well known to the commercial community, and the other, having cognizance of wreck ordnance and its appurtenances, has at its head Captain J. H. Merryman, the inspector of the service. Among other inventions favorably spoken of is a self-righting surf boat devised by Captain D. P. Dobbins, of Buffalo, superintendent of the ninth district, and a grapnel shot of Lieutenant Lyle, United States army, adapted to the Lyle gun.

One section of the report its devoted to a recital of the services of the life-saving crews at every occasion of disaster during the year. The following statement gives a summary of the results since the introduction of the present system in 1871: Total number of disasters seven hundred and ninety-seven; total value of vessels, $10,722,733; total value of cargoes, $5,923,294; total value of property saved, $9,510,408; total value of property lost, $7,099,619.

DAVIE.

ELBAVILLE, Nov. 27.—Since my last the weather has been quite cold, but no snow has yet fallen in this section. The farmers are closing up the labors of the year, and the opinion prevails that this is the most bountiful crop since the war, turnips alone failing.

Trade is lively, every thing having advanced in price.

James C. Thornton, a good citizen, died last week. He had passed the meridian of life.

Anderson Lilly (colored) was sent to jail last Saturday for failing to show how the half of a fat hog, claimed by Matt. Boyer (colored) and taken from his pen at W. A. Bailey's distillery, happened to be salted in his (Lilly's) meat tub. What became of the other half may transpire at our next court. Quite a number of fat shoats have been spirited away from the same place during the year, and Mr. Bailey is of the opinion that much of the nice barbecue he has bought this year came from his own pig pen.

A Mr. Williams, near Tyre, in Davidson county, lost his hand in his cotton gin last Friday and died Saturday. Another party near there had suffered the loss of a hand a day or two before. This ought to be heeded by the careless.

At the sale of the personal property of S. J. Hanes, deceased, very good prices were obtained. Corn brought forty cents cash at the heap.

Some of the uneducated denizens of this section are puzzled to know why it should snow at Raleigh, at Augusta, Ga., and intermediate points, and not snow here—so much nearer the mountains. Their idea is that snow comes from the mountains, and it would be as difficult to make them believe any other theory as to make them believe the earth can turn over and not spill the dinner out of their pots. GUILFORD.

GREENSBORO, Nov 29.—As I gave notice in my last, there was to be another marriage in the M. E. Church here last night, Rev. D. R. Brutus officiating; and the contracting parties were John M. Burton (a mechanic) and Miss Emma Anos, who graduated at Greensboro Female College last May with distinction. The bride is quite handsome, and so is the groom. Their attendants were G. B. Albright and Miss Julia Owens and Geo. Coble and Miss Lizzie Garrett. This time these untiring ladies of the M. E. Church had, if possible, more elaborately decorated the church than at either of the recent marriages. The additional decorations consisted of arches and crossings of evergreens and flowers, with a great profusion of real flowers in bloom, and frosted grasses (not grapes as you had it before); and though these parties mingle in the humbler walks of life and have not the means of others, the packing of the church so full of people, and matters referred to above, shows that respect due from a generous people, be circumstances as they may. These parties are on a visit to relatives in Leaksville.

On Thanksgiving day the people here were summoned by their church bells to their respective houses of worship, the four evangelical churches being open.

At the Presbyterian the choir rendered a chant of thanksgiving; then Dr. Smith read aloud the proclamation of the President of the United States and also the Governor of North Carolina. I desire to call the attention of your readers to some facts and statements made bearing on the subject, viz: Hymn, 103 Psalm—"My soul repeats his praise." The reading of the 92d Psalm and others, viz: "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord." "Oh, come let us sing unto the Lord." "Make a prayerful noise all ye lands." "Bless the Lord, oh, my soul!" and many others, and then the 426th hymn: "Lift up to God the voice of praise." After these he enumerated some of the ideas of these previous years as expressed by himself, viz: 1876–77, views of God's providential favors to this people in the discovery and settlement of this nation; its progress in civilation, arts, science, etc.; its great men before the revolution and since. 1878, facts and truths, indelibly impressed, that God had not dealt so with any other nation. His personal gifts to each of the law and of order, with the type and form of civilization, especially in North Carolina and Virginia, founded by our forefathers, and best of all the free and open Bible.

After all of this he took for his remarks last v. 136th Psalm: "Oh, give thanks unto the Lord for He is good, for His mercy endureth forever. And that Psalm is full of this last exclamation as well as large numbers of other places in the Bible where it is found. Any one who knows Dr. Smith can give some idea of how very appropriate all this to the occasion.

The collection for Oxford Orphan Asylum amounts to $23.05 as a thanksgiving, which the treasurer, W. S. Moore, has forwarded to Mr. Mills per express.

No other collections here for that object, so far as I can learn.

The weather is September-like and there has not been a wetting rain for more than three months. Many wells have failed. The like was never known before, so say the oldest inhabitants.

THE PISTOL AGAIN.

Another Row in Which One Negro Man is Killed.

Charlotte Observer, 3th.

The house of Isham Phillips, colored, at Ray's mill, a half mile from Pineville, was the scene of a bloody tragedy night before last. The participants were all colored people who had gathered at Isham's for a grand frolic, such as are now held in many parts of the county, and just such a one as was going on in Mallard Creek township, when the row described in this paper yesterday morning took place. The origin of the difficulty has not yet fully appeared as the investigation has not been completed, but the following facts have come to light: Bob Farrow, a negro who lived in the vicinity of Rock Hill, had a wife who has been working recently in the vicinity of the place where the difficulty took place. There were some charges of unfaithfulness on her part. Farrow appeared at the frolic and toward the close of the evening he and another negro man got into a quarrel, it is supposed about this matter. In some way others became implicated in it and a sort of general fight ensued.

In the melee, Farrow shot Kerr Watt in the bowels, killing him instantly. He then turned upon John Johnston and fired upon him. The ball entered his side and penetrated his stomach. He was living a few hours before noon yes erday, but the attendant physician pronounces the wound fatal, and gives the opinion that the man cannot live twenty-four hours. The only other shot fired, so far as yet reported, was from a pistol in the hands of Philip Huntley, but it is not known at what he shot.

At noon yesterday no one had been arrested. Farrow has escaped the neighborhood and it is believed has fled into South Carolina. A clue to his movements is afforded by the fact that a negro named Wash Springs, who was at the frolic, and who lives a mile or two below the scene of the difficulty, reported yesterday morning that his horse had that night been stolen.

The coroner and county physician were informed of the occurrence yesterday afternoon, and left soon afterward to make an investigation.

A Peculiar Case.

Bisbury News.

Mr. J. D. McNeely, we are sorry to announce, lost $20 by the recent theft at the Boyden House. Rich Foard, the thief, owed another darkey some money, whom he met after he had committed the theft, and offered to pay him if he could make the change. This he could not do. Rich then went into Mr. McNeely's store and got him to make the change, and then went with his creditor to another place to settle their account. After counting some of the money out, Rich concluded he would postpone the payment, and said so; but his creditor could not see it in that light, and grabbed the whole pile—the indebtedness being, we believe, $20—and kept the same. Mr. Collins, from whom the money was stolen, swore to his money and received the same from Mr. McNeely, according to the instruction of the court. The case stands thus: The negro (Foard) is convicted of theft. Mr. McNeely loses the amount stolen, and Rich's colored creditor, Hall, was paid the amount. Now, while Hall did not receive stolen goods, and cannot be cornered on that charge, for the money was not stolen, yet it remains to be seen whether or not the court will allow a man to pay another with the proceeds of a theft, as this surely is; and whether it is lawful for Rich to use money thus obtained to meet his obligations with. It is, we suppose, a peculiar case.

Before and After.

"Mr. Sherman, to what do you attribute the unprecedented rise in stocks?"

"Resumption did it, sir; resumption did it. This great increase in value is one of the many signs of returning prosperity."

Twenty-four hours later another reporter asked Mr. Sherman how he accounted for the tumble in stocks, and received this reply:

"Gould did it, sir; Gould did it. Gould is a bad man."

ALPHONSO AND MARIE.

THE NEWLY-MADE WIFE AND QUEEN.

Marriage Between the Houses of the Spanish Bourbons and Hapsburg-Lorraine.

The marriage of King Alphonso, of Spain, and the Archduchess Marie Christine, of Austria, was celebrated in Madrid. King Alphonso XII is just twenty-two years of age, his mother being Queen Isabella, the eldest daughter of King Ferdinand VII, and his father her cousin, Infante Francisco. He ascended the throne in January, 1875, upon the restoration of the Bourbons. His first marriage in January, 1878, to his cousin, Princess Marie de las Mercedes, the youngest daughter of the Duc de Montspensier, was hailed with feelings of satisfaction throughout Spain. Her death, which occurred six months afterward, caused deep sorrow among both classes, for the young Queen—a lass of nineteen—had endeared herself to her subjects. The King seemed heart-broken, and mourned her loss with the most marked manifestation of grief a d bereavement. There has been no opposition on the part of the Cortes to his second marriage, for it is not only an excellent one when political considerations are taken into account, but the necessity of putting the succession to the crown on a more satisfactory basis than it stands at the present time is generally admitted by Spanish politicians.

The Austrian Archduchess Marie Christine is the granddaughter of the popular Palatine, Joseph. She is a daughter by a second marriage, her mother, the Archduchess Elizabeth, having lost her first husband, the Archduke Ferdinand Charles, when still a girl in years, and having married, forty years afterward the Archduke Charles Ferdinand. Marie Christine is only eight months younger than Alphonso, and is said to be highly accomplished and very amiable. The bride has seen more of her royal lover than usually happens when a marriage of this kind is brought about. They have met and passed hours together in familiar conversation and are reported to be exceedingly fond of each other.

The Archduchess arrived at the Spanish frontier on November 20th, and was received by a deputation of members of the Cortes and officers of the King's household. The bride and the bridegroom are cousins, but the relationship is removed by so many degrees that no Papal dispensation was required to legalize their union, as was the case when Alphonso and Mercedes were wedded. On the 4th of November the Spanish Chamber of Deputies passed a bill granting to the future Queen £18,000 annually, and £10,000 annually in case of her widowhood. The opposition members did not oppose the grant. Special envoys to attend the marriage were sent by Belgium, Germany and Italy, and the Emperor of Austria was represented as sponsor by the Archduke Regnier. The Crown Prince Rudolph and a Bavarin Duke, besides a numerous suite accompany the Archduchess. Besides the presents which have been given to the bride in Austria, splendid presents were prepared for her by Queen Isabella, Don Francisco, the Montpensier family, the Princess of the Asturias and the King. The Archduchess Marie Christine is not handsome, but she has a vivacious disposition, brilliant eyes and a most captivating gift of conversation. She is extremely fond of dancing. In addition to her other accomplishments, she occupies herself with wood-carving. Every year she has been in the habit of sending garments made by herself, to the poor children of the town near which she lived. She is much attached to her teachers and very kind to them. In her political views she is not the least moved by outside influences, and never conceals her most decided antipathies.

The dress of the royal bride was of white bezarat, covered with a court mantle of excessively fine lace. All the escutcheons of the ancient kingdoms of Spain and their alliances are reproduced on it by a process hitherto unknown. The escutcheons from the border and ground of the mantle is followed. The bridal veil is a reproduction in minature of the mantle. The gala toilet was of gold brocade, embroidered with torrties of roses in relief, joined together by bands of myosotis and little fleur-de-lys. Another grand reception toilette is to be of silver brocade embroidered with geranium flowers of all shades.

There were no fetes at Madrid on the occasion of the marriage. The event was reduced to a religious ceremony, to which the chief functionaries and the diplomatic body was invited, and to an ordinary reception at the palace in the evening. The money that was to have been expended in rejoicings, bull fights, state performances at the theaters, exhibitions and similar festivities, will be devoted to the relief of the unfortunate sufferers from the inundations in Murcia. This change in the arrangements was made at the suggestion of the future Queen. The King himself has taken pains to go and dispense succor to the sufferers. He rode on horseback through the devastated city and the suburbs, and was received with enthusiastic greetings.

Surviving Death.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, November 29.—A special dispatch to the Enquirer from Bellefontaine, Ohio, says that Dr. J. A. Browne, whose death last Monday while hunting, has been reported, still lies unburied, although his friends and the Masons, Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias have twice assembled to bury him. His life-like appearance, with the face and lips flushed and muscles relaxed, and the absence of any sign of decomposition, make his friends hesitate to lay him in the grave. The case excites universal interest.

One Experience from Many.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them what had helped me, they said 'Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy.'"—The Mother.

A Mystery in Suffolk.

Norfolk Landmark, 1st.

Miss Virginia Rawls left her home, in Suffolk, on Friday night about 11 o'clock, as her mother thought, to visit a neighbor. As she remained unusually long her father went after her, but to his dismay learned that she had not gone to the neighbor's. Mr. Rawls and his family were at once thrown into the greatest distress, and search was made all night for the missing young lady without avail.

A colored person professed to have seen the young lady going to the river soon after leaving home, and several boatmen were engaged all day yesterday dragging for the body. Many persons believe that it is a serious result of a love affair, and that Miss Rawls has really drowned herself, while others believe that she has gone to the country in a fit of pettishness and will be heard from. In the meantime her parents are fearfully alarmed.

She is the daughter of Francis H. Rawls, formerly town sergeant, and is about twenty years of age.

KILLING FISH.

A Novel and Terrible Method of destruction.

Atlanta Constitution.

In several of the counties in northern Georgia there is much excitement over a new and terrible method of killing fish which is being practiced with great efficacy. When the government surveyors were improving the beds of the Etowah and Coosa rivers they used dynamite in blasting rock. It was discovered that the explosions were very fatal to the fish all around them. The shock was so terrible that hundreds of dead or stunned fish would rise to the surface and be easily taken. The people around the country heard of this destruction of fish and resolved to put it to practical use. They procured a number of dynamite cartridges and began such a killing of fish as was never heard of before. The practice rapidly spread until now it is common in several counties in north Georgia. A place in the stream is baited well for several days until fish congregate thickly there.

Then the managers of the destructive plans go to work. The dynamite cartridge is placed deep under the water. It is exploded by means of a small galvanic battery or by some cheaper method. A terrific stir is made in the water and for yards around fish are killed by the hundreds. We learn that not far from Cartersville, the other day, two hundred pounds of fish were thus killed in one stream. The news of this practice is rapidly spreading and wherever it is heard of there is a desire to try it. The destruction of fish in the streams and ponds is consequently terrible. Much indignation is felt by those who deem this an extravagant waste of fish, but there seems to be no way to prevent it. There is no law on the subject and protests amount to very little.

If this thing continues there will be serious damage to an important interest in the State. The streams in north Georgia have recently been well stocked with fish, and in a few years would furnish thousands of dollars worth of food; but if this way of blowing up fish by such deadly means continues, the work of the fish cultivators will have been in vain. There will be an effect to secure, at the next session of the Legislature, such legislation as will effectually prevent any such proceedings as those now complained of in north Georgia.

Cracked his Skull.

Battleboro Progress.

An affray occurred near this place last Monday. Mr. John Bullock, and a negro, Harry Whitehead, who had been farming on Mr. B.'s land, were engaged in dividing corn, when a dispute arose. Mr. Bullock who expostulated with him, whereupon Whitehead cursed and bitterly abused him. Mr. Bullock remained passive as long as possible, and took all the negro said to him, but his passions became so aroused that in a moment of frenzy he seized a weeding hoe and dealt Whitehead a blow in the forehead, fracturing his skull. Dr. W. H. Whitehead, of this place, dressed the wound and left him in an improving condition. At last accounts the sufferer was in a less critical condition.

Professor Procter says the pole star in the days when the pyramids were built "was an orb of far more striking appearance and of higher magnitude than it now is." As the Americans demand the very best of everything, and won't quietly submit that any second hand luster be palmed off upon them of any effete star, it is hoped Mr. Bennett will cable the Jeannette to investigate this matter during her arctic trip.

Death of Dr. Strudwick.

The many friends of Dr. Edmond Strudwick, of Hillsboro, will be pained to learn of his sudden death on Saturday last. On Saturday morning Dr. Strudwick received a telegram announcing the serious illness of his son, Fred. Strudwick, who was on the train returning home from one of his courts. He repaired to the depot to meet his son, whom he found dangerously ill, and taking him to his office, the nearest point he could get him to, was treating his case, and having prescribed belladona had placed three drops in a glass to be diluted by water. Soon after, having occasion to use a glass himself, he, by mistake, took the same glass and drank the whole dose. He soon discovered his fatal mistake by the effects of the deadly poison, and every effort was made to relieve him, but to no purpose, and he ended his long and useful life about 10 o'clock that night. Dr. Strudwick was in the seventy seventh year of his age, and was regarded as one of the most skilled and successful physicians in the State. A more extended notice will be given to do justice to the memory of this most honored and beloved citizen.

Married.

On Wednesday evening of last week, at the First Congregational church in this city, by the Rev. George S. Smith, John W. Wright, of Kinston, and Miss Mary K. Mitchell, of this city. After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the residence of Mr. Mitchell, where a fine supper was waiting. A reception was held the next day, when a dinner was given to the waiters, and complimentary especially to John Merritt and Miss Martha Hunter, who propose on Wednesday of next week to follow the example set by Mr. and Mrs. Wright. This is stated to be the first marriage ceremony performed in that church, of which the bride is a member.

Professor Green, a distinguished allopathic physician, wrote to the Medical Journal to the effect that after all other means had failed he sent for the Kidney Cure, (now Safe Kidney and Liver Cure), and to his astonishment cured a serious case of Bright's Disease by administering it, and afterward found it equally beneficial in other cases. He advised his brother physicians to use it in preference to anything else for kidney diseases.

A STRANGE STORY.

AN ASTROLOGICAL ADVENTURESS INJURIES (TOXICAL TREATMENT.

New York World 29th.

The story told to Justice Duffy at the Essex Market Police Court Thursday morning by the woman, Mary Connolly about the attempted poisoning by Joseph Volkmer and his wife Mary of Charles E. Blair, of Chatham village, N. Y., in their house at No. 114 Essex street, was repeated yesterday at the further examination. Two bottles which had been found in the Essex street house were handed over to Detectives Hess and Wade. Both contained what Mrs. Connolly said was the poison purchased by Volkmer of the druggist, Louis Zeller, at No. 51 Division street. The first was labelled "Sulphide of Potassium, 1 lb.," was unopened, and contained lumps of that substance, a mild irritant, not much used for poisoning, but a good deal in dyeing, and possibly bought to put the druggist off his guard. The other was a miniature champagne bottle, labelled "poison," in English and German, but without the name of the druggist who had put on the label. This contained the liquid which Mary Connolly said had been used to poison Mr. Blair's beer. It was half full, and had been full, she said. Captain Allaire had the contents examined by some druggists' clerks, who reported that the liquid was a weak solution of morphine. No quantitative analysis was attempted and all but a little of the fluid was used up. Yesterday morning the detectives visited the wholesale drug store of Louis Zeller, where Edward F. Tafel, a clerk, told them that he had sold to an unknown man at about the hour of the day when Volkmer is said to have made the purchase a pound bottle of sulphide of potassium and sixty grains of morphine in a sealed bottle. The man represented that he was sent for the drugs by John H. Eberhard, a druggist of No. 82 Canal street, in whose employ he was, and produced a card bearing the druggist's name and address. At the court yesterday Mr. Blair seemed to have recovered entirely from his sickness. The district surgeon had treated him for intoxication only, having failed to discover any signs of poisoning. Mr. Blair said the beer he had drunk was drunk from the same pitcher by them all, and that Mrs. Volkmer and Mary Connolly poured it out for him. Volkmer was in the room about half the time while they were drinking. He had been told by Mrs. Connolly that his glass had been marked. He finally made an affidavit that on the woman Connolly's statement he suspected the Volkmers of "having conspired together to feloniously cause the death of deponent by mingling poison with beer drunk by deponent." Mary Connolly then retold her story; how after the receipt of Blair's letter announcing his coming Mrs. Volkmer had suggested black-mailing him; how Volkmer had pronounced the plan clumsy, had suggested poisoning Blair, and had gone out and got the morphine between 11 and 12 o'clock. It was in a powder and Volkmer, immediately on returning, dissolved it first in brandy and then in beer to see if it changed the color. Then he wanted Mrs. Connolly to administer the poison in Blair's food. She refused, saying that it might kill him.

"What's the odds if it does; we can't make $2,000 in any easier way!" replied Volkmer, as she says.

Mrs. Connolly still objected and says Volkmer said: "How do you suppose you can get caught? He's a stranger here and nobody'll know him if he is found dead?"

"He's seen Chatham village for the last time!" Mrs. Volkmer interupted.

"He's got $2,000 on him," continued Volkmer, "and what's the use of your kicking; you'll get a third." While they were talking Blair came to the door. Volkmer ran into the bed-room and crept under the bed. Blair was let into the kitchen, asked if there was any one in the rooms but the two women and was answered in the negative. Mrs. Volkmer then said, "Have you got any money, Mr. Blair? My husband has not been near me for eight days and I am without a cent. He left me on your account.,,

Blair said he had money and would give her some. After half an hour he offered the witness some money and told her to go out and buy a turkey. Mrs. Volkmer objected and went out with Blair herself and bought a turkey and some sausage. After dinner the witness took the bottle containing the alleged morphine and went to the second avenue druggist's with it and had it pronounced morphine. Then, as she says, she told Volkmer she would not have anything to do with the plot, and he said, "You ought to have dosed his coffee to-day. I'll dose him and I've got three rooms to move into after the job's done; I can change my name, and don't care whether he dies or not."

The next time the witness saw the bottle Mrs. Volkmer was pouring some of its contents into Mr. Blair's beer. Blair drank two glasses of the drugged beer and part of a third. Blair drank also two glasses of undoctored beer. He was taken sick, they thought he would die, the Volkmers talked of putting the blame on her and she went to the police.

Edward F. Tafel, Louis Zeller's clerk could not positively identify Volkmer, but thought he was the man who had bought the morphine.

"Is sixty grains a large dose?" asked Justice Duffy.

Mr. Tafel looked amazed.

"How many grains will kill a man?" continued the magistrate catching his breath.

"About two," was the answer.

Frank Fisher a lad in the employ of A. W. Wisemann, testified that he tested the liquid for morphine with a muriated tincture of iron and found morphine in it.

Mr. Bennings, the chief clerk in Wisemann's drug-store was asked: "What did you find in this bottle?"

"Morphine, but not in sufficient quantity to even cause stupor."

It was now so late that Justice Duffy adjourned the examination until to-day at 3 o'clock. Mr. Blair was sent to the House of Detention. He said that a good deal of Mrs. Connolly's story was false. Mrs. Volkmer wrote to him about ten days ago that she was very poor and had no money, as her husband had left her. He answered her letter and told her that he would come and see her when he came to New York. He went to her house simply out of charity. He did not believe he had been poisoned. He would have gone to a hotel after he was taken sick but could not walk. He had a cup of tea in the house Thursday morning after the alleged poisoning, and that was not doctored. He had had only $10 with him.

Volkmer wanted some things from his trunk, and it was brought into court and opened. A waistcoat which he took out and put on was padded with bank notes on one shoulder.

DAILY NEWS

THE Dubuque (Iowa) Times appeals to Congress to reduce letter postage to two cents before New Year's Day.

WHEN fortune-tellers furnish eighty drops doses of morphine instead of drawing horoscopes or turning up jacks it is about time to clean out the gang. This mode of procedure if everything was known might account for more than one missing person.

A PROMINENT Republican journal of Ohio says that General Garfield has already the votes of enough Republican members of the Ohio Legislature for the United States Senatorship to give him one majority in the Republican caucus.

THE name of Secretary McCrary was again sent to the Senate for judge of the eighth judicial circuit, and ex-Senator Ramsey will be sent in for Secretary of War. Mr. Ramsey has written the President that he will be in Washington early this week

A MAJORITY of the new members of the Virginia Legislative are making arrangements to domicile themseves in private boarding houses in Richmond. There will be fewer members stopping at hotels this winter than ever known before. This is to be accounted for by the reduction of the pay of the members.

WE furnish some more current literature this morning in the shape of the annual report of the general superintendent of the life-saving service. This branch should especially be kept out of the hands of professional politicians, as the nature of the duty requires an intimate knowledge of its workings in order to make it serviceable. It is an interesting report and one worthy of consideration.

SPAIN has a queen once more, and that our readers may know what sort of a woman she is we publish a lately-written sketch of her appearance and character. The late Queen Mercedes was much loved by her people. The new Queen is undoubtedly a kind-hearted lovable woman. King Alfonso is represented to be a discreet, sensible young man, and it may happen that under the administration of the young couple Spain may attain to the standing among European nations that she held under the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella.

THE business men of Memphis are jubilant over the opening of trade in that city. Everybody is busy, and cotton is being rushed in at an unprecedented rate. Last Monday eight thousand seven hundred and twenty-six bales were received, the largest receipts in any one day in the history of the city, but the next day this was exceeded, the receipts aggregating ten thousand one hundred and twelve bales. The Appeal of that city is of course delighted with the state of affairs, and asks:

The question now is, where are we going to—whither are we bound? Do the planters intend to double our receipts of last year? Have they, in their goodness of heart, and out of the abundance of their good will for us, determined at a bound to place us alongside of the Crescent City? It looks like it. We hope so. We are ready for it all.

CITIZENS of Indiana are excited over the influx of North Carolina negroes. Only seventy colonists had arrived on last Saturday, but they are supposed to be the vanguard of the movement. George J. Langsdale, postmaster at Greencastle, Putnam county, is at the head of the business in Indiana. He announces in his paper, a Republican weekly, that he will procure work for all colored men who may choose to settle in Putnam. When the squad of seventy arrived in Greencastle they were given the African Methodist Episcopal church in which to lodge. Food is being given them apparently at the expense of Langsdale. The Indianapolis Sentinel says that it is the purpose of the Republican managers to scatter ten thousand North Carolina negroes over the State between this time and next summer.

WHAT the upshot of the Louisiana Senatorship case will be no one at present can surmise. The witnesses on either side appear to be a pack of unmitigated liars and scoundrels, and totally unworthy of belief. The investigation has proven a costly affair and should never have been commenced. We have not printed the testimony for it is a mere repetition of bribery statements and conflicting evidence. The case briefly summarized is this: Mr. Kellogg was chosen to the United States Senate by a legislature whose title to be considered so is not sustained by law or evidence. Mr. Spofford's claim to the same seat rests upon the fact that the Kellogg legislature was declared illegal and its acts null and void. The case came before the Senate who decided in favor of Kellogg. It ought to have decided in favor of Spofford, but it did not, and its decision is none the less binding, for it has the right to decide without appeal or revision; therefore the decision giving Kellogg the seat cannot be reversed, unless rules and precedents are overthrown. He can only be legally ousted by proving the bribery charge and expelling him by vote. But who can believe one of those rascally Louisiana witnesses?

SECRETARY SHERMAN'S REPORT.

The annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury has been received. As this report includes those of the controller of the currency, the superintendent of the life-saving service, and others which we have already published, we shall only briefly refer to it. The ordinary revenues, from all sources, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1879, amounted to $273,827,184.46; the ordinary expenditures for the same period were $266,947,883.53; leaving a surplus revenue of $6,879,300.93. The amount due the sinking fund for the year was $36,955,604.63, leaving a deficiency on this account of $30,076,303,-70. There is a net increase in the receipts from all sources for the year of $16,063,305.76, and a net increase in the expenditures of $29,983,556.73.

For the present fiscal year the revenue, actual and estimated, will amount to $288,000,000; the total expenditures, actual and estimated, for the same time, will amount to $264,000,000; leaving a balance of $24,000,000.

The annual saving hereafter in the interest charge on account of refunding operations is $19,900,846.50.

The Secretary makes a "drive" at the "heathen Chinee" on rice. He states that the total importation of rice during the last fiscal year amounted to 75,813,924 pounds. Of this quantity 59,430,871 pounds were imported into San Francisco, and about 55,000,000 pounds came from China. A large part was undoubtedly consumed by the Chinese on the Pacific coast, who are not citizens of the United States, and who have no intention of becoming such. The article will bear a higher rate of duty than that now imposed by law without materially enhancing the cost of living to the general consumer.

Discussing the subject of the great decline in our vessel tonnage, the Secretary says "the proper policy to be pursued is difficult to determine, but the great importance of considering the subject is respectfully submitted to the attention of Congress."

The exports of merchandise amounted to $710,439,441; imports $445,777,775; excess of exports over imports $264,-661,666. The total gold value of exports of domestic merchandise from the United States has increased from $275,-166,697 in 1869, to $698,340,790 in 1879, an increase of 154 per cent.

The Secretary is of opinion that it is a favorable time to invest a portion of the sinking fund in United States notes to be retired and canceled, and in this way gradually to reduce the maximum of such notes to the sum of $300,000,000, the amount fixed by the resumption act. While these notes are maintained the legal-tender clause gives no additional credit or sanction to the notes but tends to impair confidence and to create fears of over-issue. It would seem, therefore, that now and during the maintenance of resumption it is a useless and objectionable assertion of power, which Congress might now repeal on the ground of expediency alone. When it is considered that its constitutionality is seriously contested, and that from its nature it is subject to grave abuse, it would now appear to be wise to withdraw the exercise of such a power, leaving it in reserve to be again resorted to in such a period of war or grave emergency as existed in 1862.

The Secretary's recommendations are wise in most instances, and they should receive the fair consideration of Congress.

ACKNOWLEDGED AT LAST.

On Thanksgiving day the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher preached a Thanksgiving sermon that may properly be accounted as one of the most unique efforts of this erratic genius. That he possesses talent no one can deny; his sermons show marked originality and his church is crowded with people that attend regularly to hear him. But on Thursday last he gave utterance to a code of political morals that seems at variance with the generally accepted idea of what constitutes religious teachings. After advancing his arguments in favor of returning thanks for life, health, personal and general prosperity, he made a straight dive into politics and changed the character of his sermon into an electioneering speech and made the following remarkable assertion:

The present condition of politics is another subject for thanksgiving. The dangers that threatened at the time of the seating of Mr. Hayes have passed, and have left no scar. Had the claimant been as bold as he was cunning he might have stepped in and seized the Presidential chair with unlawful hands. He was no Cromwell. He was no Napoleon even. Let his tomb be inscribed: "His timidity was greater than his ambition; his economy than his opportunities."

It will be seen from this that Mr. Beecher virtually considers that Mr. Hayes had no more right to the Presidential chair than Mr. Tilden; that Mr. Tilden showed cowardice in not asserting his claim with a strong hand; that if he had done so he would have been supported by the masses of the people; and that the only fault he really has to find with him is that he did not resort to Cesarism to maintain his claim to the position to which he was elected by a majority of the popular and the electoral vote. And thus is presented the singular anomaly of a noted clergyman who professes to be an upholder of a republican form of government glorying in the defeat of the popular will.

But Mr. Beecher goes to a still further length in his curious argument, and states in reviewing the course of the two candidates prior to and during the sitting of the electoral commission that everything has turned out in the best manner possible. That if there was a wrong done the people have condoned it; for they now see, after an experience of nearly three years, that there can be but two coinciding opinions:

One—the wise and tranquil course of the administration, grounded on the restoration of business without violence, until the flocks are now feeding in green pastures, by still waters, knee-deep in clover. The other—the conviction that the contestant was singularly unfitted for the leadership of such a nation as ours. For the settlement of this great difficulty it is hard to tell whether we should be most thankful to Mr. Hayes or Mr. Tilden.

This, according to the Baltimore Sun, if it means anything at all, "implies a singular obliquity in Mr. Beecher's moral sense. The wrong-doing in Louisiana and Florida by which Mr. Hayes was seated in the place of Mr. Tilden is assumed to be condoned by Mr. Hayes' wise and tranquil course. The contestants whom a majority of the people decided to be the more fit of the two candidates is decided by Mr. Beecher to be singularly unfit, and therefore deserved to be cheated out of his seat; and finally, what Mr. Tilden has done in 1879 is assumed to justify the frauds perpetrated upon him in 1877. This is Mr. Beecher's mode of extracting thanksgiving morality out of national politics."

The Little Boom Settled.

New York World.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27,—From all accounts it seems that the boom in the South for Judge Settle as the second man on the Republican slate for next year is subsiding. Several radical organs in Georgia have shifted their allegiance to ex-Senator Joshua Hill, of that State. It may be remembered that Mr. Hill, at the time of secession, made a loyal record for himself by a stirring speech in the Senate when Judge Settle was preparing to join the Confederate Army. The are both stalwarts now, with this difference, that Mr. Hill has always been one, while Judge Settle held back until he saw that it was likely to pay. Although conceded to be a trifling matter, his record in that respect is said to be operating against him.

Got Out Doors.

The close confinement of all factory work, gives the operators pallid faces, poor appetite, languid, miserable feelings, poor blood, inactive liver, kidney and urinary troubles, and all the physicians and medicines in the world cannot help them unless they get out of doors or use Hop Bitters, the purest and best remedy, especially for such cases, having abundance of health, sunshine and rosy cheeks in them. They cost but a trifle. See another column.

Practical Economy.

Before Patapsco Baking Powders was patented and placed on the market, consumers had to pay 50 cents per pound for the Old Rut Powders. You can now buy Patapsco for about one-half that amount. This accounts for the popularity of Patapsco.

CANCER.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 26, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON.

DEAR SIR:—I have for years been a sufferer from a dreadful CANCER in my side which caused me untold agony, and as I am a widow with a family dependent upon my exertions for a support, my pain of body was only equalled by my pain of mind, at seeing my children want for bread. I was presented by a kind friend in Cincinnati with half a dozen bottles of Vegetine, and although one bottle is still untouched, behold me a well woman, completely restored in body and mind, and able to perform my accustomed duties. Long may you live! and may the history of my wonderful cure lead other like sufferers to purchase your valuable medicine, if it is with the last cent they possess.

Yours gratefully,
MRS. FULLER SUTT.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON:

I have been suffering for 25 years with the Piles and found but little relief from any medicine that I have taken for many years past. Last winter I suffered considerably worse than ever before, also in connection with Rheumatism I was confined to my bed for several weeks. Having procured a bottle of Vegetine I took it with good effect. I continued the use, and after taking four or five bottles, find myself comparatively cured. I can cheerfully recommend it for the benefits that I have received from it.

Yours respectfully,

I take great pleasure in recommending your Vegetine. I have been suffering for a long time with the Lung Disease; trying every kind of medicine that I could get, but none seemed to do me any good, until I tried your great Vegetine remedy. I had used it only a short time before I could discover a very great change in my health for the better. I don't consider that your medicine has its equal, for the diseases which you propose to cure, especially the disease that I have been afflicted with.

A New Boom.

New York Star.

A coarse, low-minded, irreligious scamp of humanity was the dirty-faced urchin who stood on the steps of the Paul Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Philadelphia, while the President was entering that temple last Thanksgiving Day, and bawled "Fraud!" Mr. Hayes was at that moment in a most pious frame of mind, having shaken off worldly thoughts and prepared his soul to receive the sacred influences of the dedicatory services. When the word "Fraud" struck upon his ear, it did not disturb this truly good man's equilibrium, for he merely smiled in a sweetly innocent way and asked:

"What sort of boom is that?"

The Largest Boom.

Charlotte observer.

So far as we are enabled to measure with the naked eye, we are satisfied that the old man Seymour has now the largest of all the Democratic booms. It was not so two weeks ago, and even yet Mr. Bayard may boom again.

What They Say.

Rev. J. E. Rankin, D. D., of Washington, D. C., certifies of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure: "I do not doubt that it has great virtue." Rev. C. A. Harvey, D. D., Secretary of Howard University, certifies that for Bright's disease "no other remedy can be held for one moment in comparison with this." E. W. Neff, of Detroit, Mich., certifies that it completely cured him of a very serious chronic liver complaint. J. H. Sherlock, of Rochester, N. Y., certifies that it cured him of Bright's disease of several years' standing, and that he believes it to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. These are samples of hundreds of other testimonials.

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do it's work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.

Merchants, milliners and dress-makers who have bought the Mile End Cotton from Yeargan, Petty & Co., say the different shades and colors equal silk in their exquisite beauty.

The Reason.

The reason for the unprecedented demand for Dr Price's Cream Baking Powder, is the result of its being of superior strength, uniform quality and contains no unwholesome substance. Having thoroughly tested it, we have no hesitancy in recommending it.

Prescription Free

For the speedy cure of seminal weakness, losss of manhood, and all disorders brought on by indiscretion or excess. Any druggist has the ingredients. Address Davidson & Co., 78 Nassau street, New York.

Cuticura

FROM THE HON. WM. TAYLOR, STATE SENATOR OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—To say that I am grateful, is only a poor expression of my feelings, but it is the best word I can use, for I feel it in every sense of the word. I have been a great sufferer with skin diseases for the last twelve (12) years. My head and face being covered with sores, I could not rest with the burning heat and itching of the parts affected, and was confined to my house for weeks at a time. My disease has been called Eczema, of a most aggravated type, by many physicians, but I doubt if ever fully understood by any of them. It was more like a combination of several skin humors. I have spent much money seeking a cure, and in 1877 I went to Europe, and consulted some of the best physicians in London. I received temporary relief only, for in the spring it would break out again as bad as ever. When I came back to Boston, I was told by many friends that Dr. —— (whose reputation for the cure of those diseases was of the highest order) could cure me. I waited on the doctor; he prescribed for me. I followed his advice for six months, and I can safely say, without any improvement. I tried other physicians and among them Dr. ——, of East Boston, and Dr. ——, of city proper, but all to no purpose. They did me no good; their remedies were so ineffectual that at no time did I feel that a cure would result from them.

I have swallowed five hundred arsenic pills, 5-20 grain, and taken bottle after bottle of internal remedies, besides all the external applications I have used, but the effect was the same. I became satisfied that I could not be cured, but might be kept from getting worse.

Now, about three months ago, Mr. Meehan, a gentleman well known to Boston people, called my attention to your CUTICURA, and promised wonderful results if I would only make a trial. He told me of his own experience with it, and so persevered on me that I went with him to a drug store and bought two large boxes of CUTICURA, and some CUTICURA SOAP, and commenced to use it according to the directions. There was so much humor lodged within the skin, that as soon as I commenced the use of CUTICURA it came to the surface and festered, until vast quantities had come out and greatly intensified my sufferings for about two weeks. But I did not mind this, as I felt that I was going to get rid of the humor when I saw it coming to the surface in such large quantities. After the first two or three weeks use of this remedy, I was greatly encouraged by a gradual lessening of the inflammation of a number of painful sores. I carefully, faithfully, and cheerfully followed the directions to the letter, feeling each week nearer a cure, until at the present moment, after three months' use of CUTICURA, and twelve years of as constant suffering as was ever endured, I can say that I am cured, and pronounce my case the most remarkable on record. I have been so elated with my success that I have stopped men on the street who were afflicted, and told them to get the CUTICURA and it would cure them. This is why I am so grateful to you, for I believe it to be the best and greatest discovery of the age, and that it will cure all who are suffering with these diseases. I may add that I took no internal medicine but the CUTICURA RESOLVENT.

WILLIAM TAYLOR.

——Another flirt from cold to warm.

——Cotton came in slowly yesterday.

——Mayor's court was a slim affair yesterday.

——Judge Bond will be in the city on the 10th to hold court.

——There were three revenue cases tried in court yesterday.

——Cotton: middling 11¾; number of bales received yesterday 150.

——No marriage licenses yesterday. The young men must be sleeping.

——The United States Court docket will probably be cleared this week.

——The cows are once more making the Capital grounds a stamping place.

——No northern mail last night, the train having missed connection at Weldon.

——Those unmitigated nuisances, the street vendors, appear to have left the city for other fields.

——J. L. Stone got away with two hundred and twenty-nine Home sewing machines last month.

——Colonel Thomas M. Holt, of Haw River, is in the city on business connected with the State Agricultural Society.

——Boat Crutchfield, captain of the material train, unloaded forty cars of lumber in this city yesterday.

——The Board of Trade made a visit to the skating rink last evening and enjoyed themselves immensely. The attendance at this favorite resort is largely increasing.

——Mr. W. P. Wetherell is agent for "The Travelers'" Insurance Company, and is ready to issue general accident policies to all who desire them. See card in another column.

——There is the finest lot of hunters in the world gathered in and about Raleigh. They hunt and hunt and leave the game behind to stock the woods another year.

——Mrs. Helen S. Campbell, superintendent of the cooking school at Peace Institute, announces that a second class for ladies will open on Monday next. For terms see advertisement in another column.

——The carpenters and bricklayers are getting right along with the houses of Messrs. Dodd and Briggs on Hillsboro street. When completed they will add materially to the embellishment of that handsome street.

——Captain Robinson was not fairly cold before applicants for the position of Secretary of the Department of Agriculture commenced to send in their names. Thus far only fifty-three have made application, but by night the number will reach an even hundred. It was never before surmised that within the limits of the State such a number of gentlemen possessed the experience and necessary qualifications for the position but as the recommendations pronounce such to be the case it must be so.

——The young ladies of Peace Institute, under the direction of Professor Baumann, assisted by the choir of the First Presbyterian church, propose giving on Friday, 12th instant, at Peace Institute, an "old folks' and modern concert" for the benefit of the Institution. The first part will be devoted exclusively to the "Old Folks," but whether or no "ye tything man" will take care of the unruly boys, or Sister Tabitha Jenkins will furnish hot coals for the footstoves, is not stated; but things will ring when the old-fashioned choir peal out the old gospel battle hymn "Strike the Cymbals." The second part will show modern improvements in musical artecture, mansard roof and all.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F. BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anamia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Grand Lodge of North Carolina F. and A. M.

OFFICE OF GRAND SECRETARY,
RALEIGH, Nov. 6, 1879.

The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina will commence its 93d Annual Communication at its hall in this city on Tuesday, 2d of December next, at 7:30 o'clock P. M.

Officers and representatives can procure return tickets, on application, over the railroads, etc., at the rates herein mentioned, viz:

Six cents per mile for the round trip over the following:

Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad; Seaboard and Roanoke; Raleigh and Gaston; Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line; Wilmington and Weldon; Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta; Richmond and Danville (North Carolina Division); North Western North Carolina, Piedmont, and Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta.

Six and one-fourth cents over the Atlantic, Tennessee and Ohio Railroad.

For one first class fare over the following: Western North Carolina Railroad; Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley (from Fayetteville); Carolina Central; Atlanta and Charlotte Air-Line; and Dismal Swamp Canal.

It is especially suggested that return tickets over all the routes mentioned are necessary to prevent the payment of full fare, except the Atlanta and Charlotte Air-Line, over which the Grand Secretary's certificate will be issued to return.

D. W. BAIN,
td. Grand Secretary.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician retired from practice had placed in his hands by and East Indian missionary the formular of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated to this motive, I will send free of charge, to any who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Sent by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. eow7m.
